Report

An online session was conducted by IEEE CS SBC SNGCE to convey the importance of student membership development. The session was handled by Ms. Jyothika Nithin, community growth executive at Khyaal Malabar Hub Coordinator, IEEE CS Kerala Chapter. She introduced the importance and benefits of joining the Computer Society. The session was very helpful to clear doubts regarding IEEE membership, scholarships in the Computer Society, membership offers, and different volunteer positions. The session was very helpful, and many pieces of information were shared.

~hints of what's to come carried with ease,but still confused.
she waited and waited and
waited with bated breath;
for echoes of tomorrow,
where dreams may grow.
through days and nights,
she holds on tight!
further still "she keeps
swimming!"
and at the end of the day,
in the embrace of destiny her
dreams takes flight.
echoes of tomorrow;
shining ever bright!

ECHOES OF TOMORROW

Memories lingering in the depths of mind,
Time flashes leaving the past so blind.
Amidst the chaos,hope and fear hold together,
Preparing to behold what's there forever.

Echoes Across Time: A Timeless Tale."
Upon the canvas of today,
The whispers of tomorrow play.
In the hues of sunrise's glow,
Echoes of what may lie ahead we know.

A symphony of dreams unfurls,
In the quiet chambers of the world.
Promises of joy, of strife,
In the echoes of tomorrow's life.

Through the veil of time, they sing,
Of love that will soon take wing.
Of sorrows that will gently weep,
And of hope that will never sleep.

In the rhythm of each fleeting hour,
The echoes of tomorrow's power.
They paint the skies with colors bold,
Of stories yet to be told.

So listen closely, to the whispers of tomorrow,
For they hold the key to our sorrow and glory.
In the echoes of what's to come,
We find the strength to face the dawn.

'I am no poet,' the scientist Michael Faraday once said, 'but if you think for yourselves, as i proceed, the facts will form a poem in your minds.'

"ECHOES OF TOMORROW"

That will be the time,
When the world will be a grime.
The technology will be updated,
The Rise of AI Governance,
Sustainable cities in future,
Genetic Engineering and Bioethics,
The Age of Quantum Computing,
All will Rise.

But we will be unshaded.
How beautiful were those days
When tech had not touched us
To spoil our minds and hearts
When guns became toys
Ans innocence stolen,
When mobiles had not spoiled our minds
While snatching from us,
When computers were a remote cry
And internet had not ruined the purity of minds
But now our future is unshaded.
The rivers will be polluted,
And the world will be transmuted.
The fuel will be misused,
And will be disused.
GREEN PLANET,
Will turn to plastic planet.
Still time is left,
If you don't want to be bereft.
This is our ECHOES OF TOMORROW.

Echoes of Tomorrow

Echoes of tomorrow,
Will it be of lament or delight?
Will it be the screams from a painful sight?
Will it be the sound of a happy night?

The destiny of tomorrow ,
Is a power we had borrowed
From the omnipotent god.
Mere Humans! We think we are lords .

The borrowed power leaves us with a choice -
To torment the world or fill it with poise.
The shards of violence and the scars of evil deeds,
Will make our tomorrows rot and bleed.

Dear Humans! Choose the path of peace.
Let the echoes of tomorrow, be not of grief.
With your power, craft a Utopia.
Lock all the forces, leading to a Dystopia.

Imagine a world ,that can enchant our kids;
Filled with magic and eternal gifts
Of love, peace, kindness and joy .
Your world is your home, not a thing to destroy .

The clockwork goes on and we are getting late -
To save our future from this impending cruel fate .
This is our last chance and this is our last call ;
To save our tomorrows or stand aside appalled

Echoes of tomorrow,
Will it be of lament or delight?
Will it be the screams from a painful sight?
Will it be the sound of a happy night?
